By Josh Turnrow March 8, 2022

These 10 powerhouse ladies have been able to turn their vision into reality leaving a positive and lasting impact towards a better future.

From revolutionizing the education industry to uncovering untapped markets – there is no better time than now to be a woman in business. Extending far beyond just workplace mobility, these women below demonstrate what is possible when you allow your passions to fuel your career, changing millions of lives along the way. In honour of International Women's Day, we have named the Top 10 Inspiring Women that are driving meaningful change in their local, global and digital communities.

1. Jenna Kutcher – From Humble Beginnings to Digital Media Celebrity

A fierce advocate for dreaming big and keeping it real, Jenna Kutcher emerged from the humble beginnings of small town Minnesota as a wedding photographer with some big dreams. After her near burnout experience, Kutcher is championing women across the globe to build a business around their life, not a life around their business.

With tried and tested methods and a blueprint for success, Kutcher is a photographer, podcaster, educator, and author with a no-limits mindset and a brand new book; How Are You Really? looking to empower women all over the world to get real with themselves and take big-time action on living their truth – on their own terms.

Living what she preaches, Kutcher is well-known worldwide for her signature online marketing courses and top-rated podcast Goal Digger, a live-workshop style business podcast helping thousands redefine success and chase bold dreams. Jenna Kutcher – alongside top experts, is educating clients on how to dig in, do the work, and tackle your biggest goals along the way.

2. Natasha Graziano – The Abundance Manifestor Mogul

“Put me in the jungle and I’ll come out wearing a suit,” proclaims powerhouse mindset coach Natasha Graziano. Ranked as the nation’s #1 Mindset Coach and ‘number 1 female motivational speaker under 40 in the world’ by Forbes Magazine and Top Female Mindset Coach by Business Insider.

Rising to social media stardom from homeless humble beginnings, Natasha’s well regarded as a prestigious thought leader, coaching millions to build powerful networks, gain financial freedom and step into their business potential to live the life of their dreams.

Both a podcast host, top author and creator of her own MBS method (Meditational Behavioural Synchronicity), Natasha’s on the brink of launching her second book, Be It To Become It; The Law of Attraction Explained Through Ancient Neuroscience and Wisdom later this year following her first bestseller, The Action Plan, in 2020.

To gain daily wisdom and get the low down on her transformational online courses, MBS meditations, and soon-to-be-launched best seller join her 10.3 million followers on Instagram or tune in to the Law of Attraction podcast.

3. Lisa Bilyeu – Unapologetically The Hero Of Her Own Iconic Story

When someone says you can't do it, do it twice and take pictures. A classic killer action statement from housewife turned serial entrepreneur Lisa Bilyeu. Following the success of billion dollar company Quest Nutrition, Lisa became president of a Digital First Studio Impact theory, which she co-founded with her husband Tom.

Inspired by her own personal battles, Bilyeu is dominating the female personal development space with her hard-hitting interview show, Women of impact, breaking down social norms and crushing societal taboos with a vengeance. The show features women who've overcome incredible hardship to achieve massive success, women to step up, and become the heroes of their own story.

Bilyeu's new book Radical Confidence, a 10 step guide to how she unpaused her life and went from zero to hero in just five years, is jam-packed with insights and practical tools for straight-up self-assessment, mastering emotions, and staying motivated. It is set to hit the bestseller bookshelves in 2022. Radical Confidence is available for pre-order now, with the addition of some sassy bonuses!

8. Rochelle de Goias-Jackman – GEM Is Where The Future Begins

Only 3.3% of TSX listed Canadian companies have female CEOs and the majority of Canada's minimum wage workers are women.

Overlooked and underpaid, Rochelle de Goias-Jackman is on a mission to re-defy the female narrative with her evidence-based mentorship program, GEM. A charity listed in the top 100, GEM was founded in 2012 from a vision that all young women should have the opportunity to succeed despite where they've come from or the adversities they've faced.

Jackman lives and breathes the belief that women mentoring girls is a vital necessity in fostering the success of the next generation. GEM, an evidence-based mentorship programme, offers young women mentorship, critical competencies, scholarships, internships and social capital, while Jackman is at the helm of the creation of countless transformative experiences that give rise and socio-economic empowerment to young women long after high school graduation.

A necessity to any company looking to empower young women, a cause worth donating to and a powerful message for women of today to give back to the younger generation – GEM is where the future begins.

9. Debbie Goodman – A Fierce Feminine Idol In The World Of Executive Search

Well read on the topic of being an admired female advocate in a male-dominated industry, Debbie Goodman has been the brains behind the executive and leadership talent decisions of many global organisations, NPOs and VC-backed start-ups, for over twenty years.

Shaking things up in the world of executive search since the get-go, Debbie is CEO of one of the only female-led global search boutiques, Jack Hammer, which encases Jack Hammer USA, Jack Hammer Africa, OntheBlock (executive search for blockchain & crypto companies) and Virtual Coaching Partners (leadership coaching). The Jack Hammer Group of companies has one key goal in mind; to find – and develop – leaders who grow great companies, where everyone thrives, championing equality, mental health awareness and empathy in the workplace.

She has authored two bestselling books: “InTheFlow – Taking Mindfulness to Work”, is listed as a Top 10 Best Business Books, and more recently, ‘The Living Room Leader – Leadership Lessons for a Hybrid Future’, is a number one bestseller on Amazon.

Advising a blockchain venture fund, CoinFund, and a girl-empowerment ed-tech start-up Rebel Girls, Goodman shows no signs of slowing down her serial entrepreneurial success any time soon.

10. Bianca Peynado – Fighting Cyber-Bullying To Save The Younger Generation

With every light, there’s a shadow lurking close behind.

On one side, social media houses a space for connection and communication. The dark side? Cyberbullying.

One in three young people have experienced cyberthreats online while over 25% of adolescents and teens have been bullied repeatedly through their cell phones or the Internet. What’s worse, students are almost twice as likely to attempt suicide if they have been cyberbullied.

Following Bianca Peynado's own encounters with cyberbullies stemming from her childhood years; the model, actress and entrepreneur has started a movement to overcome the atrocities caused by cyberbullying.

Following her degree in Political Science and Government from the University of South Florida, Peynado has set out to build a strong support network in our society to improve the lives of others – all the while creating a healthier online environment through her non-for-profit organisation RoadBlock Foundation.

Bianca Peynado is healing the world of online hate and building a community of love and kindness to save our future generations.
